

Adam Suggests

Ideas from O's creative director, Adam Glassman.

What do you wear with red shoes this time of year?

- Let them peek out from under jeans, or camel, black, or gray flannel pants.
- Pair dress shoes with brown, gray, or burgundy tights. Avoid black hosiery—the contrast is too harsh.
- Go bare-legged if it isn't freezing outside.

Floral appliqué are cropping up everywhere; these one-and-a-half-inch heels are work-perfect. (Donald J Pliner, $310)

Shearling lining for warmth, Nike Air technology for comfort, waterproof suede and patent leather for good looks. (Cole Haan, $248)

Take these polished yet casual suede driving moccasins out for a weekend spin. (Tod's, $425)

Studded platform stilettos are a sexy choice for date night. (Colin Stuart for Victoria's Secret Catalogue, $88)

The slightest kitten heel elevates an elegant pointy-toe pump. (Adrienne Vittadini, $99)

For details see Shop Guide.

Look What We Found!

Fire up your winter wardrobe with a pair of red-hot shoes.