

Fashion Workshop

Top trends, fast fixes, and style steals

Chic and Comfy!

Anyone who's ever been rubbed the wrong way by an underwire, rejoice. Modeled on bras made by European brands, Warner's new version of its "This Is Not a Bra" ($34; 34B to 38DD) encases the wire in a foam-lined channel. Raved one GH editor: "A big-girl bra for my big girls!"

Also fun in fuchsia and these prints

Dressy look, relaxed price

It's a wrap in trendy teal

Striped fabric says summer

FAB FIND The espadrille has evolved from the most casual of kicks to seriously sophisticated. From top: Three-inch-plus MIA raffia wedges ($59) provide va-va-voom; Aerosoles' canvas upper ($69) is as soft and wearable as its padded footbed; and Cliffs by White Mountain ($38) works the style into a sweet flat.

YOU ASKED

Q I'm 56 and a size 8. Suddenly I'm thinking my favorite shorts may be too short. What do you suggest?

You can look hot and keep cool in an age-appropriate pair. Try longer lengths that end at a narrower part of your leg (usually near the knee). A bunch of GH editors tried on—and looked amazing in—these tailored twill shorts from Talbots ($50), in a range of fun tropical colors with a hint of stretch, a slimming flat front, and a 13-inch inseam. Weekends just got way more stylish.

